First Chemical Deliveries Arrive at Technic's New Facility in Amiens, France

Amiens, France - Technic, a leader in semiconductor materials production, is pleased to announce the commencement of chemical deliveries to its newly completed manufacturing facility in Amiens, France. This plant focuses on advanced ultrapure chemicals and high-performance strip, etch, and clean processes essential for semiconductor manufacturing.

The arrival of chemical transports marks a significant milestone in Technic's global expansion capabilities by enhancing its production and distribution across Europe, North America, and Asia. The completion of the Amiens facility dramatically boosts Technic's production capacity, enabling better support for semiconductor manufacturers worldwide.

"We're excited to announce the start of chemical deliveries at our new Amiens facility marking the completion of years of planning and investment. With this expansion, we reaffirm our commitment to delivering the highest quality standards and meeting the evolving needs of our expanding customer base."

- Philippe Vernin, President of Technic France

An official public opening of the Amiens facility is planned for the spring of 2024.

The Amiens facility is Technic's fifth location in France. Purchased in 2019, the facility has undergone a complete redesign to accommodate the large-scale production of advanced, ultrapure chemicals and high-performance strip, etch, and clean processes for Semiconductor manufacturing.
